TWO DEAD IN RELIGIOUS RIOT.

Many Foreigners in a Fight Near Gurley, Ark.

Memphis, Tenn., April 18.—A special to the Commercial Appeal from Helena, Ark., gives the following account of the religious rioting in which it had been reported that nine men were killed: During a free-for-all fight at a railroad camp near Gurley, Ark., which lasted for some hours Sunday evening, following an Easter frolic between Greek, Slav and Italian laborers, two of the Greeks were killed. Residents were unable to quell the disturbance. An appeal was made to the officials of this city for assistance. A posse of deputy sheriffs were sent to the camp and returned Monday night. They report everything now quiet and no further trouble is anticipated.

ZION JOURNAL HELD UP.

Dowie's Complaint of Slander Halts Issue of Leaves of Healing.

Chicago, April 18.—John Alexander Dowie is preparing to stop the issue of Leaves of Healing, heretofore recognized as the official organ of Dowie and Zion. The postmaster at Zion City was notified yesterday by Emil C. Wetten, Dowie's attorney, that a charge "absolutely untrue, slanderous, vicious and improper" to be circulated, was published in the current issue of Leaves of Healing.

As a result the Zion City postoffice, acting on the advice of the Chicago post-office department, refused to accept the current issue of the publication which was ordered for mailing. The matter will be brought to the attention of the Washington authorities. Meanwhile the local postal authorities will not accept any copies of the paper. The formal complaint was entered by Dowie's attorney.

THIRD GAME WAS LOST

Boston Americans Drop Again Before New York

AND BY ONLY ONE SCORE

Batting Rally by the Highlanders in the Ninth Broke the Tie and Put Them

So Far Ahead That Home Team Couldn't Make Up.

Boston, April 18.—Collins' men dropped their third straight game yesterday afternoon, New York being the winner by the score of 4 to 3. Nearly 20,000 people saw the game, and the opening of the season in Boston was a noisy one.

Winter was on the slab for the home team and did pretty good work in spite of the fact that he was touched up for nine hits. Hogg performed well for New York until the eighth inning, when a little unsteadiness caused him to be replaced by Orth, after one run had been scored.

The home team broke the tie in the second inning. Parent led off with a pass, was sacrificed to second by Freeman and scored on Ferris' scroamer to left field. Ferris went to second on the throw in and to third on a wild pitch. Graham drew a pass and when he tried for second Ferris started for home, turning back and getting caught between the bases.

The visitors jumped into the lead in the sixth, when they scored twice. Dougherty dropped a Texas leaguer, Keler bunted safely and Williams singled. It was even up in the eighth when Graham got hit by the ball, was sacrificed by Winter and scored on Seibach's single.

Both teams scored in the ninth, but New York scored one more than the home team. Williams started off with a single and then Grimshaw made a poor throw of Conroy's hit. Moriarty bunted. Kleinov hit to Ferris and Williams was out at home. Orth batted to Winter and Conroy was nailed at the plate. Dougherty came up with a double and then two men crossed the plate. Boston could score only one on Freeman's walk, Grimshaw's double and Godwin's single.

PERKINS UP IN COURT.

J. P. Morgan's Partner Drove on Wrong Side of Street.

New York, April 18.—George W. Perkins, member of the banking firm of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., was a prisoner in the west side court yesterday, charged with violating the rules of the road in driving on the wrong side of the street, turning into Broadway from One Hundred and Tenth street.

After hearing the case and securing a promise from Mr. Perkins that he would not repeat the offense, Magistrate Barlow discharged him.

No special courtesy was shown the banker, who had to wait until a line of persons arrested for intoxication or taken in raids Monday night had their cases disposed of. He appealed in vain to Roundsman McNulty of the court squad to let him have a hearing quickly.

Vinol THE COD LIVER PREPARATION WITHOUT OIL

Vinol is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because, without a drop of oil or disagreeable feature, it contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers. By our process the oil, having no value either as a medicine or food, is separated from the medicinal elements and thrown away. Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, Vinol is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, and therefore unequaled as a body builder and strength creator for old people, puny children, weak, run-down men and women, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. Everything Vinol contains is named on the label.

TESTING PUBLIC SENTIMENT ON THE LIQUOR LAW

Anti-Saloon League Sends Out Queries to Picked Men in Different Parts of the State to Make Out Tabulation.

Burlington, April 18.—C. J. Ferguson, superintendent of the Vermont Anti-Saloon League, sent out today to a large number of picked men throughout the state a circular letter, asking for answers to a lot of questions which accompany the letter and which pertain to the workings of the license law in comparison with the old prohibitory law. The answers as stated will be held confidential excepting the summaries being published at the proper time. The idea is to secure opinions from as many men in the state in all walks of life as possible and to make a summary of the answers as a guide to the future work of the league.

Among the questions asked are: "Does the open saloon obey the provisions of the law?" "Has town prohibition been an improvement over state prohibition?" "Can you suggest a remedy for the over-crowded condition of the state and county jails and prisons?" "Do you find that the annual vote on the liquor question promotes better obedience?"

JUDGE DENOUNCES LYNCHES.

Tells Springfield Jury the Rioters Are Guilty of Murder.

Springfield, Mo., April 18.—Judge A. J. Lincoln of the Criminal Court, in charging the grand jury called together yesterday to investigate the lynching of three negroes last Saturday night, said: "This outrage deserves the condemnation of all good citizens and the most rigid investigation at your hands. All persons, their aiders, and abettors, engaged in that shameful outrage are guilty, under the law, of murder in the first degree. The law makes it no less a crime because 200 men engaged in it. Let the lash fall where it may. You should indict every man proved to your reasonable satisfaction to be guilty. Whether it be that of friend or foe, rich or poor, high or low, wherever you find guilt, let that guilt be punished. The path of safety lies in the most vigorous, rapid, and exhaustive investigation."

A POINT FOR MRS. COOPER

Singed Hair on Northy's Head, Declares Expert

INDICATES SUICIDE

Cooper Trial Expert on Bullet's Course

—Pits Brain in Skull—Says Poor Pit Makes Question Very Difficult Problem.

Augusta, Me., April 18.—The defence of Alice F. Cooper, charged with the murder of Charles D. Northy, Jr., scored a strong point yesterday afternoon in the testimony of Prof. O. W. Knight, who said that he had found that some of the young man's hairs had been singed, blackened, cured and matted with powder.

This would serve to show that when Northy was shot, the weapon was held close to his head and would support the defence theory of suicide.

Dr. Denis A. Ridley, who treated Mrs. Cooper before and after the tragedy, took the stand early in the afternoon.

Q.—How many times did you treat Mrs. Cooper before the tragedy? A.—Three times.

Q.—When the last time? A.—October 3.

Q.—What did you treat her for? A.—First for headaches and last two times for sleeplessness.

This was brought out to show that Mrs. Cooper was afraid of Northy and did not sleep for a few weeks previous to the tragedy.

Professor Knight, microscopist and chemist, was next called. He had testified as an expert in about twenty-five cases, including the Terrio murder case.

Professor Knight said he had examined some of Northy's hair. The diameter of a natural hair from Northy's hair was 250-400,000 of an inch.

He found among Northy's hair some hairs with blood on them. He examined the hairs on the seven slides and found six of them singed, two bearing powder marks and one curled by heat.

In envelope No. 49, which contained ten hairs, nine were singed. Under the definition of singeing, given by Dr. Whittier, one hair was singed, two probably singed and eight curled. Nine were darkened. There was a powder grain on one hair and what I should call a powder stain on another.

"I photographed one of the hairs, which was of peculiar shape and was plainly singed."

"I had but one story to tell. That is the reason I was not broken down in my cross-examination."

Mrs. Cooper made this statement today on her way to court. Her husband, big, strong and more faithful than most men, walked by her side. The slender, pale-faced woman smiled at him, showed his white teeth and gave him a glow from her wonderful eyes.

"Yes, that is so—I believe my wife told the truth," he said, adding his head to emphasize her words.

Dr. Frederick H. Gerrish of Portland, the first medical expert to be called by the defence, who was on the stand at the time of adjournment Monday afternoon, resumed his testimony on direct examination by Counsel Heath. He was required to take the skull of Northy and fit it into the preserved brain with which the experiment was made by Dr. F. N. Whittier of Bowdoin College, a medical expert for the state, and explain to the jury the construction of the brain and its various functions.

The witness testified that the forehead brain was an exceedingly poor fit for the skull of the dead man. He fitted the entire brain into the Northy skull for the inspection of the jury.

The brain, placed in the skull of Northy, was given to each member of the panel for examination. It was then removed from the skull and returned to the formalin solution.

The witness testified that he could not tell through what parts of the brain of Charles Northy the bullet entered. The track of the bullet, he believed, was above the corpus callosum and going to a part of the opposite half of the brain and out. All gunshot wounds whether the bullet passes entirely through the brain do not always cause a complete paralysis of the body, and not always death, and a shot from a revolver, as was used in this case, would not necessarily cause death, he said.

This testimony was directly opposite to that given by the medical experts called by the state.

The medical testimony presented by the defence is nearly completed, and it is probable that the defence will rest its case tomorrow night.
